

Andrew is a founding partner who represents health care providers in virtually all medical specialty fields as well as many of the most prestigious hospitals in the New York metropolitan area. He also represents a number of well-known medical device and pharmaceutical manufacturers. Over the past thirty years Andrew has tried more than one hundred cases to verdict, including numerous cases of multimillion-dollar exposure. He has lectured at the New York State Bar Association, the Greater New York Hospital Association, Yale University School of Medicine, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, Westchester County Medical Center and a number of major metropolitan hospitals and is a former Trial Advocacy Instructor at Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law.

Andrew has published on topics including medical malpractice, risk management, long term care liability, negotiating techniques and settlement strategies and drugs and medical devices liability litigation in The New York Law Journal, Medical Malpractice Law and Strategy, The Journal of the American Society of Healthcare Risk Management, The PLUS Journal, and The American Journal of Forensic Psychiatry.

Andrew is the past President of the New York State Medical Defense Bar, a past Vice Chairman of the American Bar Association Section on Law and Medicine and was a keynote speaker at their annual convention. Andrew is the Chairperson at the NYSBA biannual seminar on Medical Malpractice Litigation and was named by New York Super Lawyers magazine as one of the top attorneys in medical malpractice defense in the greater Metropolitan New York area for the years 2005 through the present. Only five percent of the lawyers in the state are named by Super Lawyers.